Fall Quarter 1986 At Wallace College...

A Class Act...

- Convenient scheduling for working freshman and sophomore students...4-day academic class schedule; some classes on Friday mornings only; full night schedule
- 25 technical-vocational programs to complete in two years or less
- 5 health education programs leading to careers in allied health careers
- Special interest courses and programs designed to meet the needs of area industrial personnel

Looking back over our almost 40 years of service to students, we at Wallace College are proud of our history and look forward to continuing to meet the needs of the Wiregrass...with quality educational options.

And, we provide those options with CLASS. Proudly we point to the success rates of our students transferring to four-year universities...those statistics prove our students get the solid foundation needed to complete their four-year degrees. We also boast about state and national award winning students in vocational/technical programs...more first place skills awards than any other of the state's vocational programs and students bringing home medals and plaques for their skills tested in national conventions in Phoenix, Arizona and Washington, D.C. And not to be slighted, our health programs consistently rank among the highest in the state and nation on student registry examinations.

Our instructors...noted leaders in their fields...are seasoned professionals holding at least master's degrees who believe in that "extra" time and attention to help students outside of class. And speaking of classes, Wallace College has some of the most modern facilities available, with state-of-the-art equipment for labs and technical programs...equipment equal to or more modern than that found in industry.

After classes, Wallace College is also a leader with a strong Student Activities program. Students have opportunities to develop skills not attainable in the classroom...things like leadership, teamwork, and a volunteer spirit. They enjoy donning a costume for theatre performances, tuning up an instrument for a band performance, practicing hour after hour to sing with the concert choir or getting a hit on the baseball diamond. Lifelong friendships are made around the table in the snack bar or studying together under the shady oaks.

So you see, Wallace College is more than just another school...it is a college with CLASS...Concern, Learning, Activities, Smiles and Selflessness. Won't you join our CLASS ACT.

For information about the college phone, write, or drop by...we'll show you why we're head and shoulders above the rest at Wallace College.

CREDIT PROGRAMS WEEKends at AUM

making time for the busy schedule

Recognizing that many adults are too busy to attend classes during the week, we are pleased to announce classes for credit on weekends beginning Fall, 1986.

AUM Weekend can make your weekends count if you...

- ...are more energized on the weekend.
- ...want to separate your campus and work lives.
- ...are an adult and enjoy going to class with other adults.
- ...like a quieter campus.

Admissions Information

You must be admitted to AUM to take a credit course. Call Division of Continuing Education at 271-9343 for application forms or additional information. We can advise you on available weekend courses, assist you with admission and registration, and, if appropriate, refer you to another university office. A $10.00 application processing fee must accompany all applications. You can be quickly admitted to the university and enrolled in most undergraduate courses.

Registration Information

You may register for any of the courses in this brochure if space is available and if you have been admitted as an AUM student. Courses begin September 20. Tuition is $28.00 per credit hour. Call Continuing Education if you would like more information ... 271-9343.

Student orientation is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, September 13. You may also register for weekend courses on that day.

Still need more options? Coming Soon

In addition to weekend college, in future quarters, we will offer...

Dawning — these courses are for you if you are a morning person. Be through with class by 8 a.m.

Friday Daytime — Join a variety of students who want to concentrate their learning in a single day each week and those who have employers who allow one day off each week for education.

Mini-term — For two and a half weeks during September or December. You will have an opportunity to attend class each day for 4 hours and receive full credit for a course.

Innovative Studies — This program can provide exposure to current topics through courses which are taught and developed outside the usual range of departmental offerings.

Dear Adult Student:

All of us at AUM understand how difficult it is to juggle school, family, and work. We are pleased to announce that the Division of Continuing Education will be offering credit courses which will give more options for you to get your degree. We are focusing this program on the busy adult. Whatever your schedule or learning style, we hope to provide a credit format for you.

Beginning this quarter, we are offering an excellent selection of credit courses on Saturdays. In future quarters, we plan to add courses during the early morning hours, Friday daytime, other weekend times such as Friday nights and Sundays, and mini-terms between regular quarters.

If you would like additional information on the following programs, please feel free to call Brenda Spiga at 271-9343.

Sincerely,

Jack Robertson

Candidates qualify for District 5 seat

Five candidates have qualified for the Sept. 2 election of a commissioner in the newly-created Coffee County Commission District 5 seat.

Lee Boyd, 37, a farmer and cattleman from New Brockton; Damascus Crittenden Jr., 55, a self-employed Enterprise businessman; Ernest "Boots" Love, 37, a bondsman from Enterprise; and Mary Emma Redmon, 45, an Enterprise Health Department employee, are the four Democratic contenders for the position. Retired Lt. Cmdr. Bernard "Whitey" Bowdoin of New Brockton is the single candidate on the Republican ticket.

All five names will appear on the ballot for a court-ordered special election Sept. 2. If a runoff is required, it will be Sept. 22, according to County Attorney Warren Rowe.

Only registered voters living in the newly-created district are eligible to vote in the Sept. 2 election.

The county's special election of a seventh commissioner resulted from an out-of-court settlement of a lawsuit filed against the county challenging the at-large election system and charging that blacks are denied a fair voice in county government.

The settlement between Damascus Crittenden Jr., Reubin McKinnon, and William Rogers, plaintiffs in the case, and the county commission, was approved by U.S. District Judge Myron Thompson, but still awaits Justice Department approval.

Pending that approval, the county has "done everything we can do, everything is in order for a Sept. 2 election," Rowe said.

Under the settlement, the county has been divided into seven districts. The commissioners will be elected from districts they live in by residents of the district beginning with the 1988 election.

The commissioner elected Sept. 2 from District 5, a new predominantly black district, will serve with the six present commissioners until 1988, when all seven commission seats will be up for election.

Sewer bid accepted

The New Brockton City Council opened bids on the city's long-awaited sewer project on Monday night, August 11, and accepted the low bid of $529,692.20 from the firm of Parker's Mechanical Construction Co., of Crestview, Fla.

The project, which is being funded through an ADM grant, will begin soon according to city officials, who were pleased with the number of bids received and the low bidder.

The next lowest bid came from J.P. Carter Construction Co. of Geneva, which bid $532,964.50.

WORK ON THE SHAFT IS LOOKING UP Probate Judge Marion Brunson and county maintenance supervisor John Flowers look up toward the second floor of the courthouse from the bottom level as construction continues on the installation of an elevator at the Coffee County courthouse in Elba. The hole, visible beneath the men, was dug through three old foundations to make room for the new addition to the courthouse.

READY FOR LEVELING Piles of dirt are stacked on the Shiloh Road, east of Elba, as county machinery constructs a base for paving of the dirt road. The county has spent countless manhours working on the road getting it ready to be paved and county officials are hopeful the road will soon be completed. An extension of the road, across Highway 84, has already been prepared for paving and once the project is completed the area's residents will no longer be victims of muddy roads during the winter rainy season.

Road nears completion

The long anticipated paving of the Shiloh Road, located east of Elba along Highway 84, should become a reality soon, according to County Engineer Mac Rushing, who reported this week that if the weather cooperates the paving could take place within the next few days.

"County crews have hauled over 1,700 yards of dirt to the road in recent weeks while building a base for the new roadway," said Rushing, "and if everything goes according to plan the paving should take place sometime this week. We've had all kinds of problems involving everything from digging up water lines to having to move utility poles; however, everything is going and we all hope the project will soon be completed."

The Shiloh Road is actually two sections of a road that crosses Highway 84 between Elba and New Brockton and serves as the primary means of travel for approximately 24 households in the area. The section of the road north of Hwy. 84 measures 1.2 miles, while the road south of Hwy. 84 is shorter, measuring only .6 miles.

The county received a $35,000 grant to do the paving and while the actual cost exceeded the grant total by approximately $400, the work done by county highway dept. crews is estimated to be valued at over $40,000, bringing the total bill for the 1.8 mile project to over $75,000.

When completed, the newly paved road will be 20 feet in width with an additional 4 feet of shoulders. This width is much safer than the old width of 15-18 feet. The county acquired 50-70 feet of right-of-way at the road sites and had to do the unpleasant deed of condemning land to complete the project, but county officials all agree that when the road is paved everyone living on it will be proud of the "all-weather" surface!

Health department recommends precautions

The Alabama Public Health Department recommends that individuals take precautions to avoid adverse effects of the current summer weather conditions.

High temperatures with high humidity increase the risk of heat disorders. Using relative humidity and actual air temperature, the National Weather Service calculates the heat index which indicates the expected effect on the body.

With the heat index forecasted to be about 100 to 105 degrees for the next several days, prolonged exposure or physical activity could possibly result in heat cramps, heat exhaustion or sunstroke.

Anyone can be affected by soaring temperatures and high humidity, but those most vulnerable are the elderly, infants, persons having chronic illnesses and/or taking certain medications, athletes, and those working outdoors or in other hot places.

Call for help if you experience dizziness, rapid heartbeat, nausea, throbbing headache, chest pain, problem breathing, great weakness, cramps or dry skin (no sweating).

The Health Department advises that those who know the elderly should check on them often. Do not leave children or pets in automobiles alone.

To avoid heat-related illness remain in doors in a cool place whenever possible. If your home is not air conditioned, during the hottest part of the day you might go to an air conditioned public place, such as a senior center, library, movie theatre or shopping mall.

Wear light weight, light-colored, loose-fitting clothing. Cotton absorbs perspiration better than synthetic fabrics, so it would be cooler.

Avoid hot foods and heavy meals because they add heat to your body. Drink a lot of liquids, especially water, even before you get thirsty. Avoid alcohol and liquids containing caffeine.

Be sure that pets and other animals which are outdoors have plenty of water and shade.

WATER LEVEL REMAINS LOW The water level at this once popular fishing hole on the Whitewater Creek remains low despite recent rains in the area. This spot is near the new bridge on Highway 203 (By-pass) and at times is one of the loveliest places along the creek.

Elba Radio Company plans construction of new FM station

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Holderfield announce that Elba Radio Company has been granted a construction permit by the Federal Communications Commission to construct and operate an FM radio station in Elba.

The Class A station will operate on Channel 266 or 101.1 MHz. The studio will be co-located with WELB AM on N. Troy Highway, with the antenna on leased space on WKMN's tall tower near New Brockton. The antenna will be at 600 feet, making it 682 feet above average terrain.

"This should provide us with an exceptional signal for a Class A FM station," Holderfield said.

The station is currently under construction, with equipment being installed by the Holderfields' son, Michael, a technical consultant and chief engineer at a Dothan station.

"We should be on the air in the next few months," Mr. Holderfield stated. "We plan to program modern country music with a limit of 12 minutes of commercials per hour, and we'll provide the area with news, weather, sports and affairs information."
